

Cole Brannum

Cole Brannum is an FRC veteran that has been with our organization from the very beginning, and most of our regular shooters have come to know him well. In addition to his duties as an instructor, Cole is also one of our top technical sales associates and plays a crucial role as our Federal Compliance Officer. Like so many of our staff, Cole is also a member of the U.S. Armed Forces and currently serves as an Armor Executive Officer for A Troop, 2/108 Cavalry, 256th Brigade Combat Team. He is a nationally ranked USPSA competitive shooter with pistol and carbine, and teaches both platforms at FRC. Recently Cole has concentrated most of his efforts on our First Time Shooter Classes and AR Classes, but he also stays very busy teaching increasingly frequent private lessons and assisting with Active Shooter and Force on Force training. Finally, Cole has made important contributions to the development of the FRC Sentinel Program and has been instrumental in initiating FRC's sales of suppressors and steering our acquisition of NFA firearms for the rental fleet. Cole has always been a leading member of the FRC staff, and has played a major role in our success as a company and as a professional training organization.
